THE TEST OF LAW.

THE SUPREME COURT TO DECIDE THE KANSAS SQUABBLE.

The Legality of Appropriations by the Populist Organization to be Passed Upon.

The Republican Caucus Takes the First Ballot for United States Senator, With no Choice.

Governor Lewelling Makes a Statement of His Reasons for Recognizing the Populist House-Something More Than a Certificate Required to Hold a Seat in the House-The State Printership.

General Notes.

Special Dispatch to the Dally Eagle.

Topeka, Kan., Jan. 18.—The joint ballot this morning for state printer did not change matters from yesterday. There was no election. Senator O'Bryan voted for J. B. Chapman of Fort Scott, Mr. Resenthal voted for George W. Crane, and Senator Taylor, populist, was not present.

But little was done in either house,
there being an early adjournment in both.

The populist house admitted Rice of Coffee county, in complete defiance of the de-rision of the suprema court. But what of it? Rice has been here a week steadily voting at every roll call and claiming that he was a member of the house. His only authority was his own. He has voted to unsent other members, when he had no membership at all himself. Even in this illegal bouse he was an illegal member until today. However, Mr. Rice has the assurance to say: "Everything is coming out all right, and we, will be able to pro-ceed to business tomorrow."

The senate today passed a legislative ap-propriation bill and sent it to the "rump" house. It will probably pass that house temorrow. When enrolled and signed by the governor the question of its legality fully elected who ought to have the ment, and it is a question for the house itself to and it is a question for the south not a board decide who shall have the sent, not a board of canvassers. The Republicans recog-nized this principle when they ad-mitted Rosenthal without a certifieste, and the populists are carrying out the same principle, though more formally, in sesting members who have ficates, but who were fairly When the 125 citizens who essential as the legislature come together they are a chaotic body of men, without organization or a head. They proceed to effect an organization, and when this is duce they are the house. The rights of members can not be taken away simply because they have no certificates. The organization has mxty seven certificate recognized as the constitutional house of representatives. The supreme court has nothing to do with it. The house is a line and a court unto itself, and will take care will do anything of the kind. But if it should be was naked.

Well, if it should, it would exceed its institutional precognities, and I don't know what would happen then. But the Republicans or any body clse need not warry. The legislature is not going to get that a tagle with the supreme court—nor is the governor, for that matter."

The Republican caucus to nominate a 1 filled States senator is to be held tonight. The labby of the Copeland has been Ady will receive the nomination—at least no other names are being discussed. The friends of Mr. Ady are very hopeful. They claim 22 votes from the Seventh district. The Perkins men are not so confident tonight, but still claim that their man will be nominated.

The Republican caucus for senator took one ballot and adjourned until tomorrow night. The vote stood as follows: Perkins, 32; Ady, 30; Lucien Baker, II.

There is a good deal of talk tonight that the Republicans will break from George W. Crane tomorrow morning to some Republican who can get the Democratic vote. LEWELLING'S STATEMENT TOPEKA, Kan., Jan. 18.—Governor Lew-elling this evening handed to the Associated Press representative a long state-ment, giving his reason for recognizing the populist house. In a nutshell his ren son was that he believed the populis house to be legally organized and the Republican house to be illegally organized. The statement quotes precedents for his action. In conclusion, the statement

The Republican contingent has proceeded in definee of law and the legally constituted authorities of the state. If it were for a moment granted that their claims are valid, still the only authority competent under the law to pass upon them has decided against them. As law-abding citizens, therefore, it is their duty to submit to the decision, and if they believe an injustice has been done to them to appeal to a higher court, the people of the state. Any other course places them in open rebelifor against the legally constituted authorities of the state and renders them liable to the penalties in such cases provided. It is my desire that there may be no further complications growing out of the unfortunate affair. At the same time it is my duty to see that the authority of the state is respected by all citizens, and it must not longer be disregarded by those who are now engaged in the filegal proceedings in the house."

The governor warns the people of the state to not be decived by the editorials are the content of the Kansas City. Times are the content of the Content of the Kansas City. proceedings in the house."

The governor warms the people of the state to not be deceived by the editorials in the daily papers, which, he says, are subsidized by the plutocrats, or by the action of the recent so-called mass meetings, which were organized by railroad attorneys and the money power.

Speaker Bouglass and Speaker Pro Tem Hoch of the Republican house, tonight is sued a reply to the governor's statement. They say that the governor's reference to the recent mass meetings is a flagrant per-the recent mass meetings is a flucrant per-version of facts and an insuit to the thous-ands of people who participated in them. They attack the governor's statement of the facts of the organization of the two houses and then go on to state, from a Republican standpoint, how the two houses were organized.

The Republican house, says the statement, was organized by sixty-three members, analysity of one of all the members who held certificates of election from the canvassing board, certified to by the secretary of state. The populist house was organized by fifty-eight members, who held certificates, together with eleven mem who are contesting the seats of Republican certificate holders. If contestants can participate in the organization of a legislature body, continues the statement, constitutional government is at an end. If the recognition of the governor and senare can make such body part of the legislature, there is little necessity of electing a house of representatives by the people; for its political complexion will always be at the mercy of a partisan government and senate without delay.

THE CHEROKEE STRIP BILL.

Washington, Jan. 18.—The bill passed by the house confirming the treaty with the Cherokees for the purchase of the Cherokee strip was taken up by the senate committee on Indian affairs yesterday, and was referred to a sub-committee constitutional government is at an end. If the recognition of the governor and senare can make such body part of the legislature, there is little necessity of electing a house of representatives by the people; for its political complexion will always be at the mercy of a partisan governments; the compelling of the Indians to adopt the ways of civilization, and the amilistion of Oklahoms and Indians to adopt the ways of civilization, and the admission of Oklahoms and Indians to adopt the ways of civilization, and the amilism to adopt the ways of civilization, and the admission of Oklahoms and Indians to adopt the ways of civilization, and the admission of Oklahoms and Indians to adopt the ways of civilization, and the admission of Oklahoms and Indians to adopt the ways of civilization, and the admission of Oklahoms and Indians to adopt the ways of civilization, and the admission of Oklahoms and Indians to adopt the admission of Oklahoms and Indians to ad

THE KANSAS HOUSES.

TOPEKA, Kan., Jan. 18,-The rival iouses got together as usual this morn ing. There was a long list of bills and resolutions introduced on both sides. The populists evidently intend to land the quarrel between the two organizations in the supreme court. They introduced a bill appropriating $50,000 for the world's fair. They offered the world's fair bill because it is a popular measure, and they hope to place the responsibility of defeat

The fact is, these men declared to the committee that they would not approve the compromise by which it was loped to outwit Mr. Holman. but they would not make any objections This was probably from the same considerations that actuated Mr. Peel and his associates when they determined to get the bill through the house at any cost and trust to the senate for the rest.

M. Stephene said that he gave the list to M. Clemenceau, who, he thought, could make the best use of it. M. Clemenceau, being called in, deried emphatically that he had ever received any list of the compromised deputies from anybody. He had not even heard of such a list, he said.
